

Tsondab Valley is a private Nature Reserve of 170 km². Bordering the Namib Naukluft Park on two sides, the Reserve's varied landscape impresses with a combination of the red Namib dunes and typical African Camelthorn Savannah. Petrified (or 'fossilised') dunes, as ancient remains of the world's oldest desert, magnificently formed into our 50m-deep 'Hidden Canyon', as well as our 'Blue Marble' Mountains, may also be explored on the property. Tsondab Valley is more than a night stop on your Namibia Safari; it is a destination for nature friends & desert enthusiasts, especially photographers. Suitable especially for self-drivers and very small guided groups.
